✧ What is the 2022 Joint EuCNC & 6G Summit?

The 2022 Joint EuCNC & 6G Summit builds on putting together two successful conferences in the area of telecommunications: EuCNC, in its 31st edition of a series, supported by the European Commission; the 6G Summit, in its 4th edition, originated from the 6G Flagship programme in Finland, one of the very first in its area. The conference is sponsored by the IEEE Communications Society and by the European Association for Signal Processing, and focuses on all aspects of telecommunications ranging from 5G deployment and mobile IoT to 6G exploration and future communications systems and networks, including experimentation and testbeds, and applications and services. It holds an exhibition space of more than 1 500 m² for demonstrating the technology developed in the area, namely within European research projects from EU R&I programmes.

The 2022 edition of Joint EuCNC & 6G Summit is being organised by CEA-LETI, Grenoble, France. The Organising Committee currently plans on holding an in-person conference in Grenoble, and keeps monitoring the COVID-19 situation and updating the website with the latest information.
